What will the Community Sports & Events Center provide for families and individuals?

This facility will provide a common destination for cultural, social, fitness, and athletic events. Such activities draw people in to the local community on both a permanent and temporary basis. Local events draw outside visitors which in turn boosts the local economy by providing new revenue for local retailers, restaurants, hotels, and more. A vibrant local economy spurs higher property values, job creation, and an optimistic housing market. On the permanent side, people want to be in a community with a variety of programming and cultural and social events. Having a facility of this nature provides a venue for people of multiple interests to enjoy their activities and interests.

What will the Community Sports & Events Center provide for kids?

In Northeast Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, our kids do not have the luxury of being able to play or train for certain sports year-around. A facility with the capacity to accommodate soccer, baseball, softball, tennis, basketball, volleyball, golf, ice hockey and more gives our children the ability to have access to training and competition facilities to be competitive. School systems with quality athletic programs bring community pride. Being able to provide opportunities for an even playing field with our conference foes allows our students the means to compete. Also, children who stay active in athletics or other activities are less likely to be involved in criminal activity and they perform better in the classroom. These are potential future employees for any local business.

What does the Community Sports & Events Center provide for a local employer?

Helping make Marinette and Menominee counties a vibrant area for families and children is a vital aspect of employee attraction and retention, especially at the management and executive level. Two aspects that play into how a person chooses where they want to live are the quality of local schools and community resources. Having a multi-purpose community recreation and events center is one of those valuable community resources. By using the community as a selling point, local employers have another feather in their cap to attract top talent. In addition, communities depend on their local employers to support them. Embedded in the fabric of any local business is the foresight to project itself in a positive light. Being a significant contributor to this local project puts any employer's name out there as someone who cares about not only their employees but the community as a whole.
